Friday, 23rd November 2012, 6 pm

EURAC library – Viale Druso 1, 39100 Bolzano

The EURAC Institute for Studies on Federalism and Regionalism and Institute for Minority Rights cordially invite to the book presentation of the 'Liber Amicorum in Memory of Sergio Ortino'.

As the first director of the EURAC research area 'Minorities and Autonomies' and founder of two subsequent spin-off Institutes, Sergio Ortino is considered the father of comparative constitutional research in South Tyrol. The publication collects papers on globalisation, the impact of technologies on legal systems, constitutional theory, supranational integration, federalism and minorities, territorial and cultural diversity management. Colleagues, alumni and friends analyse some of the manifold topics researched by Professor Ortino, who pioneered the use of new fields to explain legal phenomena.

The family of Sergio Ortino, the editors and some of the authors will take part in the discussion.
